S. ROBERT AUGUST EARNS WIDE ACCLAIM AS NAHB INSTRUCTOR

CENTENNIAL, CO—The reviews are in, and S. Robert August is one of the most highly rated National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) Instructors in the nation. For NAHB Train the Trainer courses taught through 2015 through 2018, Robert received an overall approval rating of 4.95 out of 5. Robert received a nearly perfect 4.98 in six out of eight categories across 42 evaluations submitted.

“It’s an honor to make a difference and to help so many fantastic individuals develop their careers,” August said.

Robert has taught NAHB classes at approximately 30 Home Builders Associations across the country. He has also taught associations how to instruct students, how to select programming for students, and how to market and obtain sponsors for course offerings. In addition to the NAHB, Robert has served as an adjunct professor of Marketing and Sales Management at the University of Denver.

“Fundamentally, I’m an educator,” August said. “Throughout my real estate marketing career, I’ve sought ways to elevate individuals, the community, society, and the economy by providing the best information available, whether by consulting and training, mentoring, or teaching.”
